

At Danville.

Death of Mrs. Peck.

Mrs. Emily Augusta Peck died at her home in this village Tuesday, June 16, at the age of 70 years. Mrs. Peck was born in North Danville, August 2, 1837, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Rollins. She was married to Henry Peck, April 12, 1858, and eight children were born to them, all of whom are living. Mrs. Peck has been ill since the first of January and a great sufferer. Several years ago she lost one of her eyes and during the first of her last illness she lost the sight of the other, which was a great affliction. During this time she has been tenderly cared for by her children. She was a member of the Methodist church of this village and will be greatly missed by her many friends. She was a devoted mother and her children have the sympathy of all in their loss. The funeral was held at the house Thursday afternoon, Rev. F. E. Currier and Rev. Mr. Douglass officiating. Besides her children, Charles A. of North Danville, Walter H., Mrs. Harvey Brown, Fred B. Peck, Mrs. Anna Cheever, and Mrs. Lewis Fisher of Danville, Mrs. Elmer Farrington of West Danville, and Mrs. L. H. Lucas of St. Johnsbury, she leaves two brothers, James Rollins of Danville and W. H. H. Rollins of St. Johnsbury.

Celebration at Danville.

A good old-fashioned celebration is being planned at Danville for July 4. The parade at 10 a. m. will be a grand one, with the re-organized Danville Cornet Band at its head, and there will be floats representative of the business houses and of the fraternal orders. The rest of the forenoon will be given up to races and athletic sports.

At 1:30 p. m., E. A. Nutt of Montpelier will deliver the oration of the day. At 2:15 there will be a showing of single driving horses, prizes, $3, $2, $1. At 2:30 will be the showing of matched pairs for prizes of $3, $2, and $1. At 3:00 there will be a ball game, Passumpsic vs. Cabot, for a purse of $15. In the evening there will be a promenade concert, for which the band will furnish music, followed by a dance, for which Paul's Orchestra has been secured.

Accidental Shooting.

Ansel Dennison, oldest son of Mrs. Kate Dennison, who lives just outside the village on the West Danville road, was accidentally shot by his brother Monday night and died almost instantly. He and his younger brother Harvey were amusing themselves on the piazza of their home and the younger brother had a 22 calibre rifle in his hands. The weapon was accidentally discharged, the ball entering Ansel's breast. The deceased was 17 years of age and Harvey is about 14 years old. The family are prostrated over the accident.

Mrs. George Gile of West Danville, Mrs. George Smith of Peacham, a daughter in Rutland, and a son Allen of Danville. Mrs. Bartlett died many years ago.

Sturdevant-Kingsbury Wedding.

One of the prettiest June weddings seen in Danville for several years occurred at noon Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings D. Sturdevant, when their daughter, Donna Jennings Sturdevant of Philadelphia, was married to Elwyn Harvey Kingsbury of Boston, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few friends.

Rev. John F. Schneider performed the ceremony, using the impressive double ring service. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, white and green being the color scheme. The bride was beautifully given in a dress of embroidered white messaline silk, the veil caught with orange blossoms, and she carried brides roses.

To the music of the wedding march played by Miss Elva Garrison of Philadelphia, a personal friend of the bride, Rev. J. F. Schneider entered the parlor followed by the groom, and the bride on the arm of her father. Following them came Miss Thera Twitchell, bearing the rings. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen and daisies.

The wedding reception followed immediately after the ceremony, and the happy couple received congratulations from about 200 friends. Refreshments were served. The aids were Miss Frances Harris, Miss Nellie Colby, Miss Ethel Bagby, Miss Ruth Kenter, Mrs. Mary Perkins, Mrs. Swanson, Miss Lettie Gillis, Miss Elva Garrison and Mrs. Susie Morse.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, including a silver service, a combination coffee and chafing dish set, a cut glass salad dish, an entire set of Japanese china, a breakfast set, three china ice cream sets and over $100 in gold.

Among the guests from out of town were Miss Ruth Kenter of Pittsburgh, Pa., Miss Mary Gilligan of East Barnet, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cushman of St. Johnsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Preston of St. Johnsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beverstock of Keene, N. H., A. W. Beeson of New York city, and the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sturdevant, from California.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kingsbury have been former residents of Danville, having been closely identified with the social affairs of the town. For the past few years the bride has made her home in Philadelphia. Mr. Kingsbury is a traveling salesman for the Thomas & Long Co., in Boston, and has a host of friends all over the state.

After September 1, they will be at home at 58 State street, Montpelier.

RYEGATE.

Death of Mary W. Collins.

A wave of sorrow was thrown over this community last week Tuesday, when a message was received from a former pastor, Rev. F. A. Collins, containing the sad news of the sudden death of their youngest daughter, Mary Wright Collins, aged four years and two months, after an illness of only 24 hours. She was in her usual health on Sunday and attended services both morning and evening. About 1:30 Monday morning she was taken violently ill, and although everything possible was done for her, she continued to grow worse until 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, when she passed away. Mary Wright Collins was born in April, 1904, and was a remarkably bright child, of a sweet, sunny disposition, and much admired by all who knew her. This great bereavement falls heavily on the parents, not only in their present loss, but it also brings so vividly to mind the similar experience they passed through nearly nine years ago, when little Esther and Frankie were just as suddenly taken from them. The parents and little Ruth arrived here with the remains Thursday evening. The funeral, held Friday afternoon at the church, was largely attended. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Rev. J. A. McKirahan, assisted by Rev. D. M. McKinley of Barre Center, officiated, and the burial was in the family lot in the Ryegate cemetery.
